Terms and Conditions of Service:

(i) Colt general terms and conditions version

This quote shall be governed by the following Terms and Conditions above, with the provision that where a framework agreement for the provision of services (e.g. A Master Services Agreement) is in force and permits you to order the above mentioned service from Colt, the terms of that agreement shall apply instead of (i) above and, to the extent such agreement contains provisions equivalent to those listed in subsequent points above, such provisions shall apply in stead of those listed above.

By signing this Quotation document, you acknowledge receipt of all documents listed there in and agree to be bound by, and in accordance with, their terms.

Conditions of this Quote:

- This quote is valid for 90 calendar days from the date of issue
- All quotes are subject to Colt's standard terms and conditions and are confidential.
- All offers are subject to survey and contract.
- Prices are based on the technical configuration described within the quote, and changes to your requirements may result in the need to agree a revised price with you.
- Prices exclude local taxes and VAT
- The termination point of the delivery will be at the Colt equipment room in the building. If a different floor and room is required, Colt may have to discuss a revision of prices with you.

This offer was prepared specifically for your company. You are therefore requested to treat the information it contains as confidential. Forwarding information of this offer to third parties requires prior approval by Colt.
